BRAND STATEMENT:

As a Front-End Developer, my mission is to add value to your company. I am an excited and enthusiastic person, who's inquisitive about life. Whether it's for my job, or taking the initiative to learn on my own, I have always been hard-working. For me, passion is a key attribute that determines the outcome of your success. Last year I won the 2015 Quarter One Best Non-sell Associate, for my outstanding contributions to my teams, and I realize that when we work together, we achieve the best results. Having led an unorthodox career path, my personal experiences and straightforward approach make me unique and adaptable to any situation. I want to impact the world through my imaginative approach to make life more enjoyable for people.
